What is the different between isolation and quarantine ?

The isolation of cases of documented SARS-COV2 infection refers to the separation of infected people from the rest of the community for the duration of the contagious period, in an environment and conditions that prevent the transmission of the infection.

Quarantine, on the other hand, refers to the restriction of the movement of healthy people for the duration of the incubation period, but who may have been exposed to an infectious agent or a contagious disease, with the aim of monitoring the possible appearance of symptoms and promptly identify new cases.
(Circular of the Ministry of Health of 12\10 2020
“COVID-19: indications for the duration and term of isolation)

If a pupil, or school worker, is living with an established Sars-Cov-2 case, must he be placed in quarantine?

Yes, it must be placed in quarantine upon assessment by the Prevention Department. Any close contacts (for example, classmates of the pupil in quarantine) do not require quarantine, unless further assessments by the Prevention Department. (Circular of the Ministry of Health of 24 September 2020)

In the event that a student is placed in compulsory or fiduciary home isolation, is the isolation also extended to all cohabiting relatives?

Yes, if the student is positive.

No, in case you are in quarantine because your classmate (close contact) has tested positive for COVID.

Do children\teenagers have to wear mask at school?
